

Parametric Sensation

First LP of Destillat. It offers a retro-futuristic trip in 10 tracks. A collection of tracks from previous works, sounding electro / dark / vintage / techno which although technology stocks, are melodic-intended, distilling emotions.

Modular Nation

Throughout history, the peoples of the exo-terrestrial confederation thrived and then came together over the centuries to form only one great nation... First title opening this LP on a demonic electro-pulse.

Long Battle

Softer rhythmic for this electro-martial title... After a long period on the stellar front, fighters of the future return to their land...

Victory

The battle is won! Driven by this playful electro-pop piece, crews are heading to war-free places to start a new life...

Black Killer

On one of the exo-terrestrial confederation planets, workers exploited ground-resources, but many were contaminated by black dust... An electro-dark piece with a hopeful lead...

Parametric Sensation

It's now possible to program the mental structure of a human, like a machine... A visionary piece with a powerful message on a vocoded beat ...

Vengeance

An officer of the exo-terrestrial confederation grand army, motivated by a takeover returning from the great galactic conflict, is imprisoned by a group of dissidents

A techno piece carried by an acid-bass and space arpeggios...

What's happening in the mind of the officer...?

Vision of Mind

Track led by a heavy and fast electro-rhythmic... The choirs give it a particular spatial dimension... While creating ever more intelligent machines to fill dangerous missions, the humans risk of being overtaken by the machine.

Dead Time

On an arpeggiator driven low-bass, piggybacks a dirty rhythmic... An era ends and our planet will fall back into darkness...

Advanced Technology

After the blackout, an electromagnetic hostile power works silently to impose his rule over the new world... Sitting on a lo-fi rhythmic, fly a lead both messy and structured...

Another Time

Another time another place. Last song of the album. Low-basses and airy rhythmic. The space-time continuum will tend to infinity...
